Short description	We are an ACO that works as a professional theatre. We have been producing one play a year since 2010, which was a commercial evening production. We are planning to continue with such production once every two years. Since 2016 we have started another programme strand with theatre production of pieces developed through devising theatre and work-in-progress processes. Through this strand, our aim is to develop new contemporary theatre pieces based on improvisation, explore the possible connections between arts and technology, develop site-specific and participatory theatre productions. Our goal is to develop new skills in audience development and participatory theatre and to strengthen impact in the local community. We have also occasionally been organizing theatre workshops for different types of audiences and are planning on developing this programme in the near future. Our mission is to enable community involvement in theatre and to place theatre in the centre of community as a space where its members can establish dialogue, share experiences and express their own creativity.
